

Community Mini Grant Program

Center for Human Health and the Environment

Receive a grant for up to $8,000 to address environmental health issues in your community.

Funding will support one year of research, community engagement, citizen science, or education related to environmental health.

Topic areas might include:

Air Quality

Soil Quality

Water Quality

Disaster Responses

Environmental Toxicants

Community-based organizations, nonprofits, and educators from across North Carolina are encouraged to apply. Preference may be given to proposals that relate to CHHE research themes (pulmonary health, emerging contaminants, neurological health, etc.), or proposals from Durham, Raleigh, Wilmington, and surrounding areas.

Announcement Released - October 15, 2018

Proposals Due - November 15, 2018

Notification of Award - January 15, 2019

For more information:

kmay2@ncsu.edu

919-515-2681